

Spend your Multiply for Corporates rewards!

Multiply for Corporates is our rewards programme for businesses that helps you to take care of your employees' physical and financial health. Rewards are based on the number of qualifying Momentum products you have, your workplace safety and engagement levels.

You can redeem and spend your Multiply for Corporates rewards on various initiatives for your employees. The initiative or service must be for the benefit of all employees, either to improve their financial and physical health, enhance your workplace safety or boost staff morale.

This is the Multiply effect!

Staff incentives and awards

You can use your Multiply for Corporates rewards to fund staff incentives and awards. You can purchase Multiply partner vouchers, Multiply online store credits or Multiply online shop products. Employees must have registered profiles on multiply.co.za and previously accessed multiplyonlineshop.co.za to receive online store credits.

The Multiply online shop is available to employees who are members of Multiply Starter or Premier, and offers savings on groceries, travel, tools, entertainment and more. Multiply members must register online to access the shop.

For more information go to multiplyonlineshop.co.za.

Momentum Wellness services

Momentum Wellness provides industry-leading health and wellness services in Southern Africa. They specialise in integrated workplace health and wellness solutions to enhance your business' journey to financial health, such as an Employee Assistance Programme (EAP) and wellness services, occupational health services, management information systems, executive health, primary health care and consulting services.

You can use your Multiply for Corporates rewards to subsidise any of Momentum Wellness' services, as well as the workplace safety walkthrough assessment that can be used to get a Workplace Safety Score.

Medical screening

According to research, if employees are off sick for longer than expected, this could possibly be an indication that they are suffering from a more severe condition. Medical screenings can help you get a view of your employees' risk profile and implement the necessary interventions.

You can use your Multiply for Corporates rewards to subsidise individual health risk assessments, HIV screening or flu vaccinations as part of the wellness day services or on their own.

Corporate social investment

You can donate your rewards to the Momentum Metropolitan Foundation, an independent non-profit organisation that integrates the corporate social investment initiatives of Momentum Metropolitan Holdings. The Foundation's goal is to help young people on their journey to success, through employment programmes and job placements.

Covid-19 spend initiatives

Multiply for Corporates rewards can be used for the costs or funding of Covid-19 interventions aimed at improving the physical, financial health and safety of employees.

You can use your rewards for any interventions such as:

- The acquisition of products such as sanitisers, disposable wipes, masks, gloves and detergents.
- Employee Covid-19 testing.
- Workplace hygiene and cleaning services.
- Occupational health risk assessment on Covid-19.
- Microbiological swab sampling.
- Wireless monitoring of ventilation/indoor air quality.
- Assistance with employee equipment such as data, teleconferencing, computer/network hardware and software programmes.
- Transport assistance for employees working remotely.

Rewards may be accumulated for up to two years, after which they will be forfeited by you. So make sure you spend your rewards before they expire.
