Momentum outcome-based investing philosophy

Investment success is about consistently maximising the probability of you achieving your investment goals – whether that is to preserve capital, generate an income stream in retirement or grow wealth within the parameters of a certain risk profile. In response to the ever-evolving investment landscape, we have constructed a range of outcome-based solutions that set their sights beyond mere benchmarks and instead focus on the things that matter the most to you – ensuring we maximise the probability of you achieving your investment goals. Outcome-based investing is about placing your goals at the centre of our investment process.

Investor profile and investment strategy

This portfolio is aimed at investors who are in the consolidation phase of investing. It has a medium-term investment horizon and, therefore, the aim is to maintain an average exposure of 55% to growth asset classes (local and global equities and property). The remaining exposure is to asset classes that should preserve the purchasing power of the capital accumulated. The portfolio range consists of passive, enhanced passive and smart beta investment strategies. The allocation between asset classes is actively managed, taking the market environment into account. Through the optimum selection of asset classes, the probability of achieving the outcome is maximised within acceptable risk parameters. It is suitable as a stand-alone portfolio in retirement products, where compliance with Regulation 28 is specifically required.

Quarterly portfolio commentary for Q1 2021

World economic growth may exceed 6% in 2021, as progress with vaccinations reinforces the positive effect of stimulus packages. The economic recovery is bound to be uneven, as countries that achieve herd immunity early may start to implement restrictive policies when others are still recovering from lockdowns.

Rising consumer price inflation (CPI) created an expectation of early interest rates increases. However, central banks from the United States, Eurozone and United Kingdom indicated that they don't foresee premature rate increases.

Global bonds nevertheless fretted about the potential for tighter monetary policy. Risky asset classes, however, are enjoying the improving growth picture. Consequently, global bond returns (negative 5,8% in US dollar terms) performed poorly in the first quarter of 2021, falling short of the positive dollar returns provided by South African (SA) equities (12,3%), developed market (DM) equities (5%) and emerging market (EM) equities (2,3%). Equities should continue to outperform global fixed-income investments as long as supportive fiscal and monetary policy remain in place.

In SA stronger household consumption expenditure and inventory building should support the economy from a contraction of 7% in 2020 to growth of 3,4% in 2021 and 2,3% in 2022. Higher oil and administered prices are putting pressure on near-term CPI to increase. As this is likely to be transitory, interest rates are expected to remain unchanged in 2021.

SA equities should continue to benefit from a global risk-on environment and favourable valuations. SA nominal and inflation-linked bonds look attractive, but we are less positive on cash or listed property.

The portfolio returned 6,0% for the quarter, which outperformed the benchmark of 4,8%. Being overweight local and global equity contributed to the absolute and relative returns, whereas being underweight local property detracted from returns.

Notes

On 1 November 2020, the real return expectation for this portfolio was revised from inflation plus 5% to a range of inflation plus 3% to 4%. Changes were made to the strategic asset allocations on 31 October 2020.
