Traded Endowment Option

With a Traded Endowment Option you get all the advantages of an endowment with very little restrictions. The word 'traded' means it's a 'second-hand' endowment that you've taken over from someone else. You don't have to keep your money invested for any specific term and you also have easy access to it. It gives you the freedom to tailor your investment to meet your investment needs and take on the risk you can handle. Just be aware of the tax implications. You may have to pay tax on the amounts you take.

Growing your money is part of your journey to success. Your needs are unique - whether you need the money for fulfilling a dream, for a venture, or as a supplement to your retirement income.

Our investment platform helps you build and protect your financial dreams on your journey to success, whether immediate or over the longer term.
